Fund Manager Comment

The performance of the CSE indices in Nov 2023 reflected a mixed trend, with the ASPI experiencing a downturn of 0.50%, while the S&P SL20 Index showcased a recovery of 0.52%. The fund's benchmark Insurance Sector Total Return Index (INSTRI) dropped 2.43% while the Fund dropped 2.10% during the same period. The benchmark index is mainly constituted by Ceylinco Insurance PLC Voting (CINS.N) and Non-Voting (CINS.X) shares which jointly constitutes approximately 60% of index weight. Most Insurance counters recorded declines during the month in line with INSTRI, but there were no sector specific catalyst that impacted INSTRI. During the month, 2024 Budget was presented to the Parliament with no major impact on individual stocks or sectors. The bourse also did not react notably to the final Monetary Policy Review for 2023 by the CBSL which had a rate reduction of both SDFR and SLFR by 100 basis points. The uncertainty over IMF's 2nd tranche diminished during the month and the confirmation is expected next month. On future outlook, we anticipate interest rates to drop further and hence shift some fund inflows to equity from fixed income and expect further marked to market gains on Insurers' Bond Portfolios. In addition, with improved macro-economic fundamentals and forecasted rebound in economic activities, we believe there's further potential in equities to re-rate higher in the medium term.
