Fund Manager Comment

On a MoM basis, the Fund generated an annualized returned of 20.89% as of 31st Jan 2023. Market interest rates carried it's downward momentum in to the new year as Inflation (CCPI) reduced for a fourth consecutive month to 54.2% as at January 2023 mainly driven by the decline in food inflation. The Central Bank kept policy rates unchanged at 14.50% (SDFR) and 15.50% (SLFR) respectively for the 5th consecutive policy meeting running, citing the recent developments in both domestic and global macroeconomic fronts and the need to curtail inflation further by maintaining tight monetary policy measures. Treasury bills yields continued to decline during the month as the 3,6 and 12 month bills ended at 29.91%, 28.72% and 27.78% respectively at the last auction for the month, the lowest yields have been since August 2022. Despite the drop in yields in short term and longer-term government securities, market interest rates continued to remain volatile due to the prevailing uncertainty over a possible domestic debt restructure and also Mudarabah rates have indicated a gradual drop from the peak and expected to follow a similar trend in the near future.
